brother to the famous dam Morpello. His daughter, Cherry, won several races last season as a three-year-old. Morpello was one of the greatest race horses that ever lived, and though dying at an early age in California, nearly everything that he did was a record. It may be expected that, trained on the good track in the Annapolis stud, that Cherry Pit will sire race horses. Mr. Payne has another son of Bolus in Merry Day at the stud, and his colts are a remarkably fine looking lot, which betokens success for him as a sire. Both Cherry Pit and Merry Day were bred at Ellerslie, the latter having for a dam Mermald, dam also of Eonic, winner of the Burns Handicap, by Imp. St. Blaise.

Ellis A. Clayton, who formerly lived at Norfolk, and was one of the best known trainers and drivers in Virginia, was found dead recently in his bed at a boarding house in Twenty-third Street, New York city. Some ten years since Clayton had been a good horseman, and had been successful in securing a position in the American colony of trainers in Russia, where he was quite successful. He had returned to America, but had been unsuccessful in securing a position in the American colony of trainers in Russia, and he had returned to America, but had been unsuccessful in securing a position in the American colony of trainers in Russia.

Eugene Sebastian Englehart, of this city, is the proud possessor of a bay filly, foaled March 16th, by Aloha, sire of Robert Bradley's American derby winner, Robert Wadell, dam Grandma. The dam of this filly, Grandma, the gray daughter of Imp. Woodlands and Pomona, by Ten Broeck, has been owned for some years by Mr. Englehart, who raised her with success, and later broke her to harness, where she proved tractable and kind as a driving mare. This filly is entered in the Futurity and other rich stakes for thoroughbred foals of 1905.

J. E. Lane's good horse, Imperialist, the bay gelding, by Norwood, dam Gemima, by Belmont, won a steeplechase at the Washington meeting on the opening day, March 23d, at two miles and romped home eight lengths ahead of his field, with 108 pounds up, in 4:27, and on Tuesday last, March 28th, the unsexed son of Norwood again won with heavy weight up, and at a distance in 4:10 1/2, and his victory was just as easy. Imperialist, who is now 8, and was bred by Pitt & Dorrier, Scottsville, Va., owners of his sire and dam, seems to be a perennial performer, as she has been racing and winning regularly for seasons past. Imperialist is now being trained by Bernard Dowell, who wintered him at Bullfield farm, Gemima, the dam, bred by Mr. Dowell, who owned the grand dam, Gem, by Duke of Magenta, son of Lexington.

Thoroughbred foals at H. T. Oxford's Blue Ridge stud, Upperville, Va.: February 26th, chestnut colt by Prince of Melbourne—Bit of Spice, by Pepper and Salt.

March 2d, bay filly by Filigrane—Fair Annet, by Hanover.
March 4th, bay filly by Peep O'Day—Regalia II, by Melton.
March 6th, chestnut filly by Computo—Almira, by Ephraim.
March 17th, bay colt, by Peep O'Day—Smir, by Carnegie.
March 20th, chestnut filly by Terrifier—Balzan, by Hanover.

CHERRY PIT IN ANNITA STUD

Death of Ellis H. Clayton—Notes From Winston, N. C.
Happy Tie, 2:25 1/2.

William G. Bryan, who during past years campaigned Albert C. 2:16 1/2, and other good money winning trotters, has, after an absence of some half dozen years or so, returned to the fold and engaged to train and drive the Montezuma Farm horses during the season of 1905. Bryan is a Kentuckian by birth, but has been a resident of Virginia for more than a decade, and is looked upon as one of the ablest conditioners and handlers the State has never had. In his stable at Montezuma are more than a dozen head of trotters and pacers, ranging from two-year-olds to aged horses. Among these with records are the trotters Estuary, 2:19 1/4, the chestnut son of Expedition, 2:15 1/4, and Wavelle, 2:24 1/2, by Belmont, and Hulman, 2:20, the brown gelding, by Quartermaster, dam Winnie D., dam of Glee McName, 2:16 3/4, Ginter, 2:16 3/4, etc., by Hannas, Estuary was gelded last fall and promises to make a race horse of some class now. Hulman was foaled in 1892 and trotted to his record eight years back, but last fall was seemingly in better form than at any time during his career, and if he keeps right the small son of Quartermaster may first right around 2:10 during the coming season.

A. D. Payne, of Annita Farm, Charlottesville, Va., has purchased the bay stallion, Cherry Pit, nine years old, by Bolus, dam Cerise, by Imp. Moccasin, second dam that great race mare Lizzie Lucas, the gray daughter of Imp. Australian, formerly owned by the late Major Thomas W. Dowell, at Bullfield Farm, Cherry Pit is a large, handsome horse and a full was highly prized.

Libation, 2, and Shary Boy, 3, both by Aloha, dam Sue B.; Boney Boy's dam, by Prosper, were returned winners on the same day, recently at City Park, New Orleans. Libation won at four furlongs in 0:40, and Shary Boy did six furlongs in 1:16. Both of these youngsters were bred by Robert Bradley at Greenway Farm, Wilcox, where their sire, that good stallion, Aloha, heads the stud.

The Ellerslie bred colt, Workman, 3, by Imp. Fatherless dam Network, 3, won at Ascot, California, on March 16th, at six furlongs, in 1:16 1/4, and two days later defeated his field over the same track at seven furlongs in 1:26 1/4. BROAD ROCK.

AFTERMATH OF BIG FOX HUNT

A Long List of Well Satisfied Guests at the Mecklenburg.

(Special Correspondence of The Times-Dispatch.)

THE MECKLENBURG, CHASE CITY, VA., April 1.—Not until Saturday night did the festivities of the Mecklenburg fox chase meet week end with an informal gorman, but as the Sunday hour approached, there was a gradual and reluctant breaking up of what was to all present one of the most thoroughly exciting, enjoyable and successful social events of this or any other season at this place.

The Mecklenburg management surpassed itself on all sides. There was pleasure and excitement for man, woman and child, from the beginning to the end of the week. If the horses and hounds could reason or remember as their hunters or masters did, never would they forget the day, and neither will they be forgotten, for together their names have been perpetuated in print, and will not be, but be passed down to posterity, so that at many a future meet here the great March meet of 1905 at the Mecklenburg will be discussed with animation and interest as a most notable example of the finest sport and spirit of chase, and an event not marred by the least discourtesy.

The aftermath notes are but reverberations, echoes of the actual excitement of the week. The telegram and special correspondence has flashed the news notes to several enterprising journals as one social feature succeeded another. Every guest and observer here wished that all his or her friends could have been present with him, and it may be safely said that when the Mecklenburg management presents its programme for any such pleasure again the public, like "Barkis will be willin'" and eager to be here.

Already plans are in preparation for enlargement and improvement on this entertainment at stated times.

THE OLD AND THE NEW.

There has been perfect harmony between the old and the new. The old fox hunters, who were organized and governed by rigid rules and requirements, and a warm regard has sprung up between them—a fine fellow feeling in the field of sport between the fox hunters. All formality was discarded, and this was one of the most fascinating features characteristic all around of the Mecklenburg meet. Mr. Allen Potts, as usual, as critic, correspondent and foremost sportsman, has been highly commended on his effective work done here, and was compensated for his labors by an enjoyment equal to the occasion. Mr. Potts is equal to all occasions in conversation, in the ball room or banquet hall, or in any of the popular pleasures in which he ardently engages. It took him but a short while to know everybody and everything that passed, even as he was known and popular. He seemed to know every dog by name, every horse and hunter, including the sons of Ham who were engaged in the hunt.

Mrs. L. C. Moody, of Bon Air, as the finished correspondent, was present and equal to every occasion. First and foremost in the field as a rider, who took the brush, as well as being perfectly at home in the ball room or banquet hall. The hunt german Friday night, led by Dr. Flemming, of Louisville, and Miss Daisy Moring, of Raleigh, brought out several new figures, which were much enjoyed by participants of the dance, as well as the observers, and which at all times permitted some of the non-round dancers to participate in these pleasures. The chaperones on this occasion were Mrs. Archer, Mrs. Nels, Mrs. Benjamin T. Crump, Mrs. E. L. Hobbs, of Brooklyn; Mrs. H. B. Hartman, of the hotel; Mrs. J. G. Penn, of Danville, and Mrs. L. A. Carr, of Durham, N. C. The german lasted until 12:30 A. M., when a march was made for the beautiful dining room, where was served the most delightful prepared banquet, which lasted till 3 A. M. The menu consisted of some sixteen courses. Among the dancers at the german were Messrs. R. Gilmore, Mrs. Hartman, Miss Overby, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. W. Craig, of Richmond; Mrs. T. Hughes, Miss Edna Wood, Miss Powell, Miss Daisy Moring, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Overby, Miss Paris, of Chase City; Miss Will Easley, South Boston; Miss Tilly Powell, Miss Nellie Martin, of Lynchburg; Miss Susie Morton and Miss Morton, of Keyville; Miss Julia Moment, of Raleigh, and Miss Gray Morehead, of New York.

Miss Gray Morehead, of New York, so gloriously known in social circles in this State and from New York to Florida, is here to spend some time with her friend, Miss John, of Leesville, N. C., and expects to have her mother and a number of friends with her soon. Miss Morehead has been spending the winter in Florida. Among parties who are still here are Mr. Benjamin T. Crump, Mr. and Mrs. James G. Penn, Mr. and Mrs. A. Keen, of Danville; Willard Craig, of Richmond, who is decidedly an addition to society here, and is the guest of no less and more notably popular couple than her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hobbs, of Brooklyn. Mrs. Hartman is one of the indispensable promoters of many pleasures. Several parties have indulged in trip shooting during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Stewart Bryan, of Richmond, are among the later and popular guests of the hotel, while a baby girl of theirs is one of the pets of the guests. Mrs. L. A. Carr, of Durham; Mr. and Mrs. Miss Carpenter, of New York, are spending some time here, and are decidedly a pleasure and pleasing guests. Several parties have indulged in trip shooting during the week. Miss Annie Roberts, who was thrown from her horse after the chase, is much improved and entirely out of danger.
